FAMILY KEEPSAKES?

Where are your photographs and keepsakes? Have you checked on them recently? This is something you should do periodically in order to make sure these precious items are ok. Many of us use that space we call a basement and I am sure some of you have discovered that the keepsakes you thought were safe and sound were not as safe as you thought! Yes, new houses can get water in the basement which can lead to disposing of any family heirlooms because of mold and mildew. If you need to store your items in the basement be sure to place them in waterproof containers, and run your dehumidifiers to maintain proper humidity. Don't forget about the attic/garage – how hot does it get? Are there critters that chew? Photographs and memorabilia should be stored at 70 degrees temperature and 40% humidity and away from direct sunlight. A windowless closet away from outside walls and sources of water is an ideal place. Be sure to check on your family keepsakes to see if you may need a better place to store them.

When handling these heirlooms be sure to wash your hands with soap and water first. Washing removes the dirt and oils from our hands that could remain on these items causing damage in the future. Fingerprints on photographs can show up overtime.

Have you labeled your heirlooms? There is nothing worse than inheriting all those lovely items and not knowing the history behind them. Name people in pictures, tell when it was taken, (using a photo-safe, waterproof, fade proof pen) label other heirlooms by placing note cards inside teapots or on backs of plates etc. - telling who it belonged to, its time frame and was their any significance to the piece.

Dart Thomas Lang (297020), Alaiedon Township, Mason, Michigan

Dart Thomas Lang, youngest son of Thomas Thompson and Margaret Agnes Lang was born in Delhi Township, March 28, 1897. He has one sister, Mrs. Viola M. Sanderson of Mason and one brother, J. Kieth Lang of Alaiedon Township. In May 1913 he enlisted as private in Battery A., 119 Field Artillery. During the Mexican trouble he served nine months on the Mexican border. He returned from there and spent his time on the farm until again called to the service on July 15, 1917 and trained with his Battery at Camp Hoague, Lansing until Aug. 18 when they were transferred to Camp Ferris Grayling for further training. Here he was made a first class private. Again they were sent to Camp McArthur, Texas where he was transferred to headquarters company 119 Field Artillery. In Feb. 1918 they left Camp McArthur for Camp Merritt, N. J. to await sailing orders. They sailed from Camp Merritt, Feb. 25, 1918 landing in Liverpool, England March 4, 1918, landing in France, March 11, 1918. From Couqueton, France he went with his company to Toul where they went in with the 46th Division. Dart said this was not very bad, "sort of breaking in." From Toul to Alsace where they saw more fighting, but the first field fight came at Soissons where they took the hill that the French said could not be taken, but which they not only took but drove the Huns back 48 kilometers. Dart very graphically described the struggle at Chateau Thirry. Here he said, "The best German troops, the Prussians guards were put against the 32nd Division and told to hold at all costs, but the 32nd broke the line taking prisoner those of the Prussian guard not killed and taking 22 kilometers of land. At Verdun the 32nd went against Point Mount Verconn, the best observation point on the western front, which both English and French said could not be taken. This was taken by the 3rd Div. Infantry backed by the 57th Brig. F. A. {Field Artillery} with a 48 hr. barrage. The Eng. and French received a new idea of what the American army could do. "When we left Couqueton we had 1475 horses but at Point Mount Vercoum we could go no farther for lack of horses, all but 324 having been killed in action and the Division went back for rest." From Verdun they went back to Nauvages, France, staying there 3 months then to Brest, sailing for the U.S. April 21, arriving at Camp Mills, L. I., May 7, 1919. He arrived in Lansing with his comrades and marched in the parade at the celebration for the 119th, receiving his discharge May 16, 1919. Since then he married Miss Stevens of Mason and is working as a mechanic.

Ivan S. Potter (2054999), Address-Mason, Mich.

Ivan S. Potter, whose father, J. Franklin Potter and mother, Alma L. Potter, were residents of Alaiedon Township for many years, was born July 24, 1890 and had three brothers, Orel and Herbert of Lansing and Gerald of Mason and four sisters, Mrs. Lydia Swan of Williamston, Mrs. Bertha James of Jackson and Mrs. Fern Colby and Miss Hazel Potter of Mason. Ivan was drafted May 18, 1918 and entered the service at Camp Custer as a private in Co. 9, 339 Inf. He was transferred to Camp Mills from where he took ship and arrived overseas in Aug. 1918. Here he was transferred with his company to North Russia. He was engaged in the North Russia Defense of Gora {Gori}, Nov. 18, 1918 and the Offense of Petrishina, Nov. 19, 1918. He received an honorable discharge, giving him an excellent character, July 7, 1919.

He has since married Miss Gladys Rotnour of Alaiedon and is engaged in farming near Mason.

Charles F. Potter, (438461), Address-Winnepeg {Winnipeg}, Can.

Charles F. Potter, oldest son of George W. and Dora K. Potter (deceased) was born in Alaiedon Township, Ing. Co. May 25, 1890. He has a brother, John, also in the service and one sister, Florence of Alaiedon. Charles enlisted at Winnepeg {Winnipeg}, Manitoba, Can., April 15, 1915 with the 52nd Battalion, going thence to Ottawa to training camp and being transferred from there in Sept. to Halifax, supposedly for winter, but were stationed there only one month when he was sent overseas. This battalion held the distinction of being the best trained of any in Canada, each man being trained to hold the position of an officer. After landing in France, they were very soon taken to the front. There he saw nine months of actual trench life, never missing an engagement in that length of time with his battalion of 800 men. In one engagement of four hours duration when recalled for muster and roll call, only 400 men responded. During the nine months he was blown up by shells and mines twice, the last time the records showing that he had hemorrhages for 18 continuous hours, after being carried to No. 1 dressing station. He was gassed once so severely that the effects will probably always remain with him. In May 1917, he was sent back to Canada for 6 months treatment. At the expiration of that time he was transferred into active service and returned overseas. He said, "I do not know as I will be able to stand it, but if I am any good to them, I am ready to go, for I know what they have to contend with over there." However, his health would not permit of active warfare and he was sent back to Winnepeg {Winnipeg} where he received his discharge, July 15, 1919.

Timothy Kauppi

Timothy Kauppi, of Finnish parentage, was born in Finland in 1896. After reaching America, he drifted into Ingham Co. and was employed on farms in Meridian and Alaiedon Townships. After the outbreak of the war in Europe and hearing from his parents of the troubles through which they were passing, he decided to go back to Finland and fight with his countrymen. He had purchased his passage, but found on reaching New York, that it was impossible for him to go and returned to Alaiedon Twp. where he was at that time employed. But he constantly brooded over the condition of his people in Finland and finally enlisted Nov. 25, 1917. He was sent as private to Columbus, Ohio, then to Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga. from whence he sailed overseas. He was in the ambulance corps, was promoted to a doctor's first aid. He was badly gassed in August, but recovered and received the wounds which later proved fatal, the telegram stated that he died at Base Hospital No. 6. In Alaiedon, he stated that he had purchased two one hundred dollar Liberty bonds. He was a naturalized citizen and his letters said he only desired to live for his Flag, his Country and his God. What more can a man do than this—Lay down his life for the country of his adoption.
